

HOORAY, ANOTHER WORKSHOP!

(Said no one, ever...)

By Michele Smith 6/25/2019

Are you dreading the idea of spending multiple days stuck in a windowless room, drinking lukewarm coffee and eating too much sugar only to be rewarded with a few valuable nuggets of insight?

Organizations spend significant time and money conducting workshops in an effort to solve myriad problems – process changes, operational optimization – and while most achieve a modest level of success...usually face to face connections, meetings of minds (if not consensus) and constructive debate (if not decisions)...rarely do the participants (or budget holders) walk away feeling that all of their time was well spent.

RAO Solutions has turned this dread into excitement for our customers by executing well planned, well facilitated, well-structured workshops.

The most frequent quote RAO facilitators hear after every one of our workshops is “I can’t believe how much we got done! I’ve never been in such a productive workshop before.”

How are RAO Workshops different?

RAO Workshops are:

- Engaging (interactive and interesting)
- Focused on objectives (stay on course, sustain productivity), and
- Dynamic (flexible and adaptive session-to-session)

How does RAO get maximum value for our customers out of workshops?

- Talented facilitators
- Meticulous planning
- Customized agendas
- Well researched and prepared materials
- Comprehensive tracking (parking lot, action items, decisions)
- Personalized follow up

We get people talking about the right issues, we pursue consensus and we drive decisions -
